VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., MONDAY, MAY 13, 1867. NO. 234.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

THE TOLERANCE OF REPUBLICANISM.

If the report be true that Gen. Sheridan has given warning to the press of New Orleans, he is a traitor to republican ideas.—Despotism allows no difference of opinion: Freedom, the widest divergence. It is a mockery to say that a man is free who is permitted to say only what is agreeable to his rulers. If there is a portion of the press of Louisiana which is inclined to denounce the military reconstruction bills, the way to meet it is by argument, not force. If the bills cannot stand by argument, they do not deserve to stand. If action under them cannot be justified by reason, there ought to be no action. We do not believe in undertaking to drive the people of the South into accepting any opinions of ours or of anybody else. The true freeman wishes to invade another's independence no more than he tolerates an infraction of his own. But the genuine test of his intolerance is to be found in his willingness to endure what is repugnant to his own opinions, and to meet adverse ideas by free discussion, and not the strong hand.

A military governor who properly appreciated his relations to republicanism would ask of the press not that they should publish what accorded with his views, but that they should give him an opportunity of being heard. Peace cannot be brought to Louisiana by the repression of the expression of opinions adverse to Congress and to the Government, but by convincing the people that their duty and their true interest lie in supporting that Congress and that Government. If this cannot be done, then we ought not to ask them to stand by either. The most melancholy feature of this military reconstruction act is that it is the abandonment of the great republican idea of freedom of discussion and of choice, and the incorporation into the American organism of the very essence of despotism—forcible repression of what is obnoxious to the majority. We are not at all disposed to question General Sheridan's gallantry as a soldier or his services to the Union in the late war, but he is carrying the spirit of the camp into the arena of politics, and is proving false to the very foundation principles of republican government.

"Would you permit a rebel," we hear some ultra loyalist ask, "to talk defiantly and insultingly of the Government?" Most assuredly; if there is any rebel who thinks he shows his independence by assailing the Government which protects him in his person and his property, let him wag his tongue. God does not strike the blasphemer to the earth. His sun shines on the evil and the good; His rain falls on the just and the unjust. Men live in sin and defy His authority, and, within certain limits, are permitted any amount of license by which they may degrade themselves. A great government can afford to be tolerant of abuse of speech. As long as obedience to the fundamental law is exacted, abusive speech and the want of proper respect to the government and its officers, such as the petty spite of repudiating the flag, may go unnoticed and unpunished. A common scold loses the power of abuse, and the truly great man can defy the most venomous tongue. A strong, liberal government like ours, based on the enduring respect and love of the people, can defy the angry assault and the fiercest vituperation; but in noticing petty slights, or in striking down the freedom of speech, it only arrays itself against the sympathies of those who would otherwise resent the indignity or the abuse of the freedom of discussion. When the time arrives that in any portion of this country the acts of the government cannot be subjected to the most severe criticism and denunciation, farewell to American liberty. The institution that cannot bear discussion, the ruler that cannot stand up under censure, deserves to be overthrown, and no General understands the true character of our government, and its relations to the great principles of civil and religious freedom, who does not invite the frankest and fullest criticism of his acts, however personally offensive. And, in our judgment, he would act much more wisely for the interests of the government and the people if he permitted newspaper men to tear passion to pieces, and lecturers to vent their bile to the uttermost, than to silence either by official interference. If they can survive it, we are quite sure the government can, which is far more likely to be hurt by the indiscreet zeal of its impulsive friends than by the abusive criticism of either open or covert enemies. In a republic the freest development is given to individual idiosyncracies. It is despotism which would reduce men to one drear level, or would them into unvarying types, and which would repress censure lest it awaken disturbance. But in a nation where public opinion rules, the true policy is to teach every man to have an opinion, not by habituating him to have one set form of indoctrination, but by accustoming him to the sharpest controversies and most clashing interpretations. Liberty dies in the stifled air of the camp. She is invigorated amid the free winds and stormy skies of the mountains. Let us, therefore, maintain the right of independent criticism, not for our friends, but for those who ruffle our prejudices and antagonize our opinions; and let the nation, in the interests of freedom, insist that the military rescripts which warn presses and silence lectures and abate processions be forthwith annulled.—National Intelligencer.

NEWSPAPER BOASTING.

Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, thus "takes off" some of his cotemporaries, who are constantly boasting of their "immense business:"

"The daily circulation of our paper—to actual bona fide paying subscribers—is just five million six hundred and twenty thousand and forty-two sheets. We have employed upon the paper five hundred compositors and one hundred and eleven editors, nine hundred carriers, three hundred and twelve mailing clerks, and other aiders too numerous to mention. We have taken especial charge of the falls of the Ohio, and use them exclusively for "wetting down" our paper. We have eleven paper mills in constant operation, the smallest of which turns out two hundred thousand bundles of paper daily. It requires seventeen nineteen-story Hoe's presses to work off our vast edition, and we are compelled to engage all the coal that is mined in the Lehigh Valley, as well as contract for all that comes down the Ohio River, to supply our engines with fuel. Our correspondents are all graduates of the first universities and colleges in the world, and are stationed in every city, town and hamlet on the habitable globe."

Grateful for the flattering patronage with which we have heretofore been so kindly favored, we respectfully solicit an increased share of the patronage of the citizens of Raleigh and the surrounding country. Without specially gassing, we deem it sufficient to say, that our stock mostly embraces such articles as are usually found in Family Groceries. Most of our goods have been recently bought in New York and Baltimore, for cash, and we hope to be able to sell them on satisfactory terms. In addition to our stock of Groceries, &c., we have a fine lot of

and a splendid lot of Confectioneries, consisting of

PLAIN AND FANCY CANDIES, RAISINS, ORANGES, FIGS, NUTS AND BRANDY PEACHES, &c., all of which will be sold on reasonable terms.

We have also a fine lot of genuine Durham Smoking Tobacco, which we can implicitly recommend to "those who smoke." Please call and see us.

We will pay particular attention to all consignments of Produce and Merchandise entrusted to our care and will endeavor to sell at the best market prices. Consignments are respectfully solicited. By a prompt and close attention to business and fair dealing with all, we hope to merit and receive a share of public patronage.

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. MONDAY, MAY 13, 1867.

THE DESTITUTION IN THIS STATE.

The public have heretofore been advised that, owing to the multiplicity of his official engagements, Gov. Worth has been compelled to delegate the distribution of supplies, &c., donated by the State of Maryland and by benevolent Associations in Baltimore and at the North, to the Hon. D. M. Barringer and the Clergy of this City.—These gentlemen have been unremitting and indefatigable in the discharge of the duty committed to them, and have really performed a vast amount of labor.

We are sorry to learn, by the following extract from a letter of Col. Barringer to the State Relief Commissioners of Maryland, published in the Baltimore Gazette, that the destitution in this State is even greater than we supposed.

Col. Barringer truly reflects the heart of our people, when he acknowledges, in such fitting terms, our obligations for the timely and noble charity extended by the generous donors whom he addresses:

"In their behalf, and of the State of North Carolina, we offer our most grateful acknowledgements for this generous donation, made through your Board to the suffering poor of our State by the State of Maryland. It will bring joy to many a hungry and famishing family. It is but another addition to the debt we so largely owe to the charity of your noble State, and especially to the never failing benevolence of the city of Baltimore.

"Although well acquainted with almost every county and town in the State, I had no correct idea until I endeavored to aid in this good work, of the distressing extent of destitution in many parts of the State. Details would be harrowing. All the charity so nobly given by those who are able, abroad and at home, with all the assistance from the proceeds of the Congressional fund for those 'in absolute need of food to prevent starvation and extreme want,' disbursed through the agency of the 'Freedmen's Bureau,' can but partially supply the urgent necessities of the destitute and will only furnish a temporary relief. The ravages of war, the want of rain and the paralyzing uncertainty of our 'situation' so long and so fatally continued, have left desolate many a fair field and brought misery and abject penury to many a once bountiful and happy home. But, with the blessing of God, our own industry and the noble spirit of our people, we hope to prosper again beyond the want of charity from friends, except in generous sympathy and cordial good will."

IT IS NOT good to be too sanguine, because it adds to the bitterness of disappointment if our anticipations are not realized; but there is every reason for gratification at the very favorable accounts coming up from all quarters of the South concerning the growing crops. Such indications are of far greater interest to our impoverished and suffering people, at the present time, than political developments or partisan expectations.

As a matter of fact, the material interests of the South have perhaps been more seriously damaged by the failure of the crops, than by the delay in respect to re construction. While restoration to the Union is an object of earnest wish with all the people of the South, and while the vast majority of those, who are permitted to do so, are ready to co-operate in the work of bringing about that desirable consummation, still money and muscle must extricate us from our greatest troubles. Apropos to this subject, the Savannah Herald says:

"The South will be fortunate if it fully recovers from the disasters of the last six years within the next fifteen years. Energy, perseverance and industry, such as our people are now exhibiting, can make the desert bloom, but only with the aid of time. All the help that Congress could have given would not have restored the South its prosperity, and this is the point we should all understand and appreciate. We must depend upon ourselves for the regeneration and material restoration of the country.—Immigration and foreign capital would aid us to some extent, but we must consider that our only reliance—our only substantial dependence—lies in our own industry. It is worse than folly to rely upon Congress, the Supreme Court or the President.—The latter could give us but little help, if they had it in their power. The Southern people must rebuild their prosperity in the same way and by the same means that they originally built it. They must all, men, women, and children, go to work. Many of us must throw off the habits of indolence which we acquired under the slave system, and bring out the latent energy and ambition which have been slumbering in inaction. We must, and will, show to the world that the charge is false which conveys the reflection that all the enterprise of this country is confined to the Northern half of the United States. Thank God, we have the ability to build up our prosperity in the course of a few years, and we should now show that we have the will and the ambition to do it. Let us turn away from the adventitious and unreliable helps to which we have made allusion, adopt the policy that we have suggested, place our reliance upon our own efforts, and within a reasonable time the South will stand side by side with the North in wealth, influence and power.

THE NORFOLK Virginian, alluding to our advocacy of a Penitentiary, says that as "a moral idea, it may be very fine, but, as a practical one, it is not an improvement on the old fashions." Granted, to a certain extent; but suppose you are not allowed to retain old fashions. How then?

Mrs. Major Williams, late the widow of Stephen A. Douglas, has brought suit against the agent employed to settle the estate of her first husband. She alleges that he charged the heirs with the full amount of claims, on which he had obtained considerable deductions, and appropriated the difference to his own behoof.

Florida produces lemons that weigh over a pound, and are twelve inches in circumference. They are obtained by a cross between the common lemon and the sour orange.

THE RICHMOND RIOT.

The Richmond Enquirer gives the following account of the origin and incidents of the late disturbances in Richmond. They have a fearful significance and are directly traceable to the influence of the inflammatory and incendiary counsels of such men as Hunnicutt and Underwood, and of some of the Radical emissaries who are beginning to flood the South. "The people of the South,—white and colored,—if left quietly to work out the great problem involved in their new relations, would find a peaceable and mutually beneficial solution. But under the insidious and dangerous appeals that are being made to the passions of the blacks, there is too much reason to apprehend serious trouble,—which may Heaven avert!

"During the engine trial at the Basin on yesterday afternoon, Captain Charters, of the Richmond Fire Brigade, while measuring the distance to which the Delaware engine had thrown its jet, was jostled from behind by a negro, whom he ordered to get out of the way—an order which, by virtue of his position, he had a perfect right to give. The negro replied by striking the Captain a heavy blow on the back of the head, which prostrated him in the mud.—A Delaware fireman, who was standing by, retaliated by knocking the negro down with a speaking trumpet, and immediately afterwards the negro was arrested by Policeman Southall, and a white man, supposed to be the party who struck the negro, was arrested by Policeman Snooks.

The negroes present immediately commenced an attack upon the police. Revolvers were drawn, stones and brickbats hurled, and, at the corner of 8th and Cary, the prisoner was torn by the mob from the hands of Mr. Southall, who struggled desperately, and pursued the negro, but was assaulted by a large crowd of negroes, one of whom struck him on the shoulder with a brick, inflicting a very severe wound. He succeeded, however, in recapturing the negro when he was seized from behind by negroes, who held both of his hands and attempted to deprive him of his revolver, when Sergeant J. R. Pleasant coming to the rescue, drove off, temporarily, the assailants.

A running fight ensued on Seventh street, up which the police marched the prisoner towards the Station-House. The cry of "Freedmen to the Rescue" was raised, and from all quarters the negroes flocked to aid in the attack on the officers of the law.—Stones and brickbats were hurled, and a furious howling mob hovered around the policeman whom they assailed with a contiuous storm of missiles.

At the corner of Seventh and Broad streets another rush was made by the mob, the prisoner rescued for the second time and Captain Jenkins, who had by this time come to the aid of his officers, was severely cut in the back of the head by a brickbat. The prisoner was, however, immediately re-arrested and carried to the station-house door, where he was again torn from the hands of the officers and borne in triumph up Marshall street, the vast crowd of negroes surging tumultuously along, yelling and shouting exultingly, crying "This is our country," "We've cleaned 'em out," "We gin it to 'em," and other exclamations of a similar nature.

The fugitive was pursued, overtaken, and at the corner of 6th and Broad streets again arrested, but hardly had he fallen into the hands of the officers before he was again torn from them and released, and succeeded in making his final escape.

During the melee a youth named Irving was assaulted by the negroes, and took refuge in Mrs. Bidgood's boarding-house, on the corner of Main and 7th streets. The house was immediately beset by a throng of negroes, who endeavored to force an entrance, but were prevented by the police, who guarded every avenue.

A brother of the boy, strongly resembling him in person, attempting to pass out, was seized by the negroes, who would have torn him to pieces but for the interference of the police, who, with some difficulty, rescued him and bore him to the station-house for protection.

Although thus far successful in their outrageous defiance of the law, the negroes did not appear to be satisfied, but gathered in immense numbers around the station-house and on Broad-street, and encouraged each other by giving utterance to the most incendiary and threatening language.

General Schofield being informed of the disturbance soon appeared upon the scene, accompained by a heavy detatchment of troops. Standing in an ambulance he addressed the negroes, warned them of the danger of the course they were pursuing, and commanded them to disperse and go home.

The troops were then ordered to clear the streets, and much against their will the negroes dispersed before the bayonets of the soldiers, threatening to divide into squads and "clean out Richmond to-night."

Such is a brief, unvarnished record of the occurrences of yesterday; occurrences which plainly denote that the harvest sown by pestilent agitators is about to bring forth fruits worthy of the seed and the sowers. The negroes have plainly manifested their intention not to be trammeled by the restraint of laws which guarantee equal rights to all; have proclaimed their readiness to fight, and threatened the whites with extermination.

The moderation displayed by the police and white citizens was little short of marvellous, and shows to what sacrifices our people are willing to submit to preserve peace.

REV. J. S. LONG.—The following note from this gentleman to the Editors will explain why he was compelled to leave the City, without delivering his second lecture on the "Life of Bishop Bascom:"

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Having received tidings from home of the dangerous illness of a dear relative, I shall be compelled to return from this point. I had cherished the hope of being able to deliver both of my lectures in Raleigh; also of visiting the principal towns west of here, but I shall have to discontinue my tour for the present. With the funds which I have already raised and may be able to secure in my section, I think we shall be strong enough to put up a neat Chapel, which must serve us until the dawn of better days. I desire, through your enterprising and influential journal, to express my acknowledgment of the cordial co-operation and kindness which I have everywhere received. The Wilmington and Atlantic railroads, the Steamers on the Cape Fear, the proprietors and custodians of the Halls and Theatres where I have spoken, all exhibited a most generous appreciation of my mission. The pastors and congregations of the different churches sympathized with my work, and earnestly helped me. Especially was this the case in the noble town of Fayetteville, where the hearts and purses of other denominations were freely opened to our relief. I found all our preachers at their post, popular, beloved and influential. The poor down trodden people, though impoverished and low-spirited beyond measure, helped me out of their little means the best they knew how. God bless them! It made me sick at heart to contemplate their poverty, their struggles, and their sorrows.

Truly yours,

JOHN S. LONG.

STATE ITEMS.

—— Under the caption of "Misstatements from abroad," the Fayetteville News thus effectively disposes of the ridiculous statement, which originally appeared in the New York Herald, that, in consequence of "repeated evidences of disloyalty," it has been found necessary to garrison the town of Fayetteville with a small body of troops:

"This announcement will doubtless occasion considerable surprise to our citizens, for it contains a mention of a state of feeling of the existence of which we were all ignorant. Our community has been accustomed to make the tranquil and law-abiding feeling which pervades it, a matter of congratulation; and there are but few of us who will not be at a loss to conjecture in what our disloyalty consists. It is true that we are not "loyal" in the sense of approving, endorsing, or imitating the course of the military speaker who delivered a discourse on the 20th ult., and whose peculiar business in our midst would appear to be to incite ill-feeling between the two races in the South, which must be productive of injury to both, and to foment political strife and animosity which will of necessity work ill to the general government.

But withal, we can offer some substantial evidence of our fidelity to the oath of allegiance, and our claims to good citizenship. Our County has paid thousands of dollars in taxes into the Federal Treasury, and while there is no credit due us for doing whatever we are obliged to do, there might be a little accorded to us by magnanimous minds for performing what is required of us, heartily, faithfully and without attempt at evasion. We obey the laws with exactness and alacrity, and so far from attempting to hinder, we strive to further the administration of justice to all classes."

—— The late heavy rains have caused an unprecedented freshet in the Cape Fear river. At Fayetteville, up to 8 o'clock on Friday morning last, the water had risen thirty-five feet.

—— Bishop Pierce will preach the Commencement Sermon at Trinity College, on the 19th. of June.

—— The Mail steamer A. P. Hurt, of the Cape Fear River line, made the run from Fayetteville to Wilmington, on Thursday last, in a little over ten hours. This was an unprecedentedly quick trip.

—— The Richmond Armory Band is to be in Tarboro' the present week,—we presume on occasion of the Ball to be given in compliment to the State Medical Society, which convenes in that place on the 15th.

—— The gratifying intelligence comes from a late meeting in Martin county, that the continued and perserving efforts of the friends of the Williamston and Tarboro' Railroad have at last been crowned with success in raising the capital stock. The speedy construction of the road is regarded as beyond a doubt.

—— The Stockholders of the Bank of Cape Fear met at their Banking-House in Wilmington, on Thursday last. There were 3,861 shares represented by individuals, and Mr. J. H. Lindsay, of Greensboro', proxy for the State, held 5,444 shares. Messrs. P. K. Dickinson, J. Wooster, W. B. Giles and D. L. Russell were appointed Directors on the part of the State, and Messrs. W. A. Wright, J. H. Lindsay, R. Strange, A. Empie, George R. French, Z. Latimer and James Anderson were elected Directors by the Stockholders. No business of public interest was transacted. Mr. W. A. Wright was subsequently re elected President by the Board of Directors, and Col. J. G. Burr, Cashier. So says the Wilmington Journal.

—— The Asheville News says that in that region, within a week, they have experienced the atmosphere of the four seasons. It accounts for the prevalence of the wintry indications, at the time of writing, by supposing the annexation of the Russian possessions was having an influence upon the climate.

—— There have been several flagrant robberies in Anson County of late. Smoke houses have been particularly in demand with the rogues.

—— The Commencement exercises at the University will commence on the 3rd prox. The annual address before the two Literary Societies will be delivered by Gen. Henry A. Wise and will be a great treat. Mr. J. S. Barlow is Chief Marshal, assisted by Messrs. J. S. Battle, G. G. Latta and W. S. Pearson. The Ball Managers are J. Edwin Purcell, Geo. M. Maverick, W. Clarence Jones, I. R. Strayhorn, A. W. Graham and Eugene Morehead. The Salisbury Band will discourse sweet music, and a large attendance is confidently expected.

FROM CALCUTTA IN THREE DAYS.—The New York Journal of Commerce acknowledges the receipt, on the the 6th, of a telegram from Calcutta on the 3d, announcing the sailing on that day of a ship from New York.

WHAT A LAWLESS CONGRESS MAY DO.

Attorney General Stanbery, in his speech on Monday, drew the following sketch of what a Congress may do, when it disregards obligations and oaths, and riots in lawlessness:

"My learned friend, who first addressed your honors, said that we cannot be destroyed as a people, or as a Government, unless, as I understood him, two co-ordinate branches of the Government concur. The legislative and the executive may do it. The legislative and the judiciary may do it, but not one of these alone. I wish it were so. I can see how the legislative power may destroy us, and destroy us forever, and it is the most dangerous feature in our whole system. She may, by laws that this court cannot touch, by proceedings that this court cannot resist, plunge us into wars that will destroy us, or, in our domestic policy, altogether break up our institutions.

To be sure, it would be all wrong, it would be the assumption of unconstitutional authority, but there is the power, and so long as that power is backed by a majority of the people it may defy your honors, and may defy the world. What! even this court, sacred as it is, is in the power of Congress. How? If Congress choose to destroy this court, they have an easy method. Withdraw your salaries, the very means by which you come here and sit here. Fail to make appropriations. But if that is not enough, if notwithstanding that you will come here, and starve rather than quit your posts, they may impeach you on false charges, by one recognized, established, acted upon by the other, and every member of the bench may be impeached and made incapable of holding his office. What futher?

As the members of this court disappear by resignation or death, the court at last goes out of existence, unless one branch of Congress confirms the nomination of some new judge. I might carry this further. I might show you that, in the variety of powers exercised by Congres, and that no court can resist or control, it is in the power of the legislative body to destroy us all, and to defeat this experiment of free government. We are not perfect. With this court to judge, Congress to legislate, and the President to act, we are far from being a perfect Government. There is no power that can save us but the people, and when that goes wrong, and sends agents here to carry out its will, the Government is at their mercy, and they will change it as they please.

POLITICS IN TENNESSEE.

The following platform was adopted by the recent Convention [of whites and blacks] in Tennessee:

1. We are in favor of the Union of the States, under the Constitution of the United States.

2. We are friends of peace and civil law, and that these great objects can be best promoted by legislation recognizing equal and exact justice to all—exclusive privileges to none.

3. We are in favor of immediate restoration of the disfranchised fellow-citizens to all rights, privileges and immunities of full and complete citizenship.

4. That our colored fellow citizens, being now citizens of the United States and citizens of the State of Tennessee, and voters of this State, are entitled to all the rights and privileges of citizens under the laws and Constitution of the United States and of the State of Tennessee.

5. We are opposed to the repudiation of the national debt, and are in favor of equal taxation as the proper method of paying the same.

6. That the establishment of a standing army in our State, in time of peace, is a flagrant and dangerous encroachment upon the rights and liberties of the citizen, heavily oppressive to the tax-payer, and evidently designed to overawe voters at the ballot-box.

7. We cordially approve of the patriotic efforts of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, in defending the Constitution, preserving the union of the States, and maintaining the supremacy of the laws.

Mr. Wilson is now engaged in telling the people of the South, that if they had adopted the rejected Constitutional Amendment their restoration to the Union would have been secured. Why were they not told so at the time? The insincerity of Mr. Wilson is exposed by the Richmond Examiner, which states that Mr. Wilson "explicitly declared," in an interview with certain Southern gentlemen in this city, not long ago, "that had he been a member of the Virginia Legislature, he would not have voted for the Constitutional Amendment, for the reason that, while it disfranchised some of the ablest men in the State, it proposed no equivalent." Does Mr. Wilson bear two faces?—Has he one set of opinions in a conference and another on the stump? And if he would not have voted for the amendment as a Virginia legislator, with what face can he now find fault with those who rejected it?—National Intelligencer.

From the Concord Press.

"As to our principles, we shall, with every other press in the State, advocate a final and eternal separation from the Federal Government, and shall support those men whose ability and integrity we think best calculated to effect this object."

The above is taken from a number of a certain newspaper in North Carolina, issued in November 1861. Who will acknowledge its paternity? It is very natural to believe he is now a "red string." Some say he was a stage performer in the late Holdenite Convention in Raleigh. Who is he? L.

The above communication is from the "Sentinel" of the 29th April. I can answer the question. The author is Wm. M. Coleman Esq., editor of the "Carolina Flag," Concord, N. C. The extract, in the Sentinel, is taken from his salutatory in November, 1861. It is correctly quoted. G.

AUGUSTA, GA., May 8, 1867.—Senator Wilson gets on slowly in his Southern tour. He spoke on Monday evening in Aiken, South Carolina, and here to-day. The meeting here was held in the open air, and in front of the Court House. Under the fine shade trees there some three thousand colored people, of both sexes and of all ages, had congregated, the dusky mass being lighted up here and there by white faces; but these were few, and only on the outside margin of the throng. The pillars of the portico from which Senator Wilson spoke were decorated with flowers and evergreens. Two colored men acted as standard bearers for the national flag. General Sweeney occupied a seat upon the portico.

Mr. Joseph Sanford has completed his contract with the ladies of the Memorial Association at Spotsylvania Court-House, and has interred 1,035 Confederate soldiers, at a cost of about $1 for each interment. There are 505 distinct graves, the names of the parties being preserved; 529 are buried as unknown, four being placed in one box.

Thirty-four divorces were granted by the Supreme Court which adjourned at Worcester, Mass., on Saturday.

R. Barnwell Rhett, of South Carolina, is in Washington, collecting material for a history of the rebellion, which he is writing.

Mr. George Welby, husband of Amelia Welby, the charming poetess, died in Louisville, last Wednesday. He was in the fifty-second year of his age.

DIED.

At the residence of her father, Alfred Williams, near Raleigh, N. C. on the 17th. of April, little IDA, aged two years and nine months. She was a very interesting child, and often astonished her friends by her precocity. During her sickness she suffered greatly, but bore her sufferings with christian fortitude.

She was indeed a lovely child. Obedient to her parents, affectionate to her brothers and sisters, and gentle and kind to all, she was a favorite with all who knew her. She was a sweet singer and rapidly learned all the hymns sung in church and sabbath school, and bade fair every way to have made a most noble woman.

But God, in his wisdom saw fit to remove her, and in the already stricken home of her father there was another vacant chair—another sweet voice hushed—and in the graveyard another little mound; and could we but pierce the vail which hides from our view the heavenly choir, we would see another angel there.

May God, in his mercy, bless this sad providence to the hearts of her friends, and may they so live that, when their days on earth are ended, they may join their IDA in singing praises to the "Lamb" forever!

FIRST CLASS PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THAT LARGE, COMMODIOUS, AND WELL known Hotel,

"THE METROPOLITAN"

situated in the center of the business portion of Greensboro, N. C., is offered for rent or lease.

Its advantages are many; the outhouses and improvements are in fine condition, and of modern construction. Greensboro is a point at which a well conducted Hotel cannot fail to pay an active manager very handsomely; being at the terminus of the Richmond, Danville and Piedmont Rail Road, about the middle of the N. C. Central Rail Road, in the very centre of the Mining District of N. C.; as a point always remarkable for its flourishing schools and female colleges, and well known as a summer resort, on account of its healthy atmosphere.

The proprietors would prefer renting to some party, who have had experience in conducting a first-class hotel, and to such the terms would be most liberal; at any rate they desire an active and energetic man. The Metropolitan Property being the only Hotel in the central part of town, makes it most desirable and a competent manager would enjoy a monopoly.

GRAND PRESENTATION CONCERT IN AID OF THE
SOUTHERN ORPHAN
ASSOCIATION,

INCORPORATED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF VIRGINIA.

June 30th. 1867.

To be Given at Baltimore, June 17th.

1867.

TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH, TO BE HAD of JOHN BRAGG, Agent, at Southern Express Office, Raleigh, N. C.

Owing to recent troubles, the Managers have issued the following Card to which the attention of the Public is called:

OFFICE PRESENTATION CONCERT,
Baltimore, April 13, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—Our attention has been called to extracts in Southern papers reflecting upon the management of the Presentation Concert in aid of the Southern Orphan Association, and in answer to the statements and assertions contained in such extracts we wish to lay the whole matter before the people, that they may judge from the actions of our accusers the motives by which they are governed. We call attention to the facts contained in the following card, and request the public to bear in mind that the parties mentioned were only members invested with no authority to act in any other official capacity whatever. The power they sought to usurp would give them full control of the books and funds, by which they could shape the first to suit them, and withdraw the latter from the bank, where it is now, subject to the order of the Association:

[From the Baltimore Gazette April 11.]

TO THE PUBLIC.

The Southern Orphan Association being liable to misrepresentation in consequence of the late arrest of some of its members on charges preferred by Mr. A. G. Kimberly, we beg leave to present the following statements in regard to the Association and its accusers:

At the inception of the Society the ladies connected with its origin, in view of difficulties that might arise in procuring a charter, determined to admit as members such gentlemen as were supposed to be prepared to advise and assist them. Some of these gentlemen apparently worked for the sole benefit of the Association until the Charitable Concert was proposed. After that their actions showed but too plainly that they desired to obtain control of the Association.

At a meeting of the Trustees upon the 8th. of March a constitution, drawn up by Messrs. Kimberly and Hawkins, investing them with full power and authority to handle the funds of the Association and to examine its books was proposed by Mr. Kimberly, and upon a vote being taken, it was laid aside. The ladies with some exceptions, rejected it and the President and Treasurer, besides recognizing the legality of the document, refused to vote. In this manner it was laid over. Notwithstanding this, the parties resolved themselves into committees and set to work.

On the 31. of April a committee, consisting of Messrs. Kimberly and Bostock, under this so called constitution, came to our office and demanded the books. The President being present, stated that would not recognize the committee. On the 4th. Mr. Kimberly called, with two gentlemen, and again demanded the books, and was again refused.

On the 5th. by request of Messrs. Kimberly, Hawkins and Bostock, we, with two witnesses, attended an interview with them at Barnum's Hotel. Mr Hawkins stated that he had that morning received a letter from General Trimble, authorizing him to prosecute us for having opened one of the General's letters, which he intended to do to the full extent of the law if we did not give up the books. As the officers should decide this, he told him that he would be answered next day. On that evening the officers and ourselves were arrested on a warrant issued by Mr. Kimberly, and released on bail. The next evening Mr. Hawkins issued a warrant for the arrest of our book keeper, Mr. Schiers, on the charge of having opened General Trimble's letter. As the charge was false, Mr. Schiers was dismissed. We see from this morning's "Sun" that these parties announce their unqualified repudiation of the project," etc., which will be taken for what it is worth, when it will be known that they repudiated, because they lost their large commissions in the rejections of their farms and houses by the Society.

The offices and rank they append to their signatures are of their own creation, as the Society wishes the public to understand that it does not recognize the name and office of "Finance Committee" as ever having been created by said society.

We here leave the public to determine the motives of our accusers, for, to our mind, a simple narration of the above facts is sufficient to show that the Association and ourselves are attacked because we would not suit the purposes of Messrs. Hawkins, Bostock and Kimberly.

L. T. PALMER & CO.

In consequence of the persecution arising from our late connection with these persons, we are compelled to postpone the GRAND CHARITABLE PRESENTATION CONCERT to the SEVENTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1867. This will give us ample time to dispose of all the tickets, and it will afford the public an opportunity to investig te the facts which we have published, thus gaining that confidence which is necessary to assure the success of every public measure.

We do not wish these statements to be taken unsubstantiated as we cordially invite an investigation of the enterprize. The grand jury of this city presented us, and we hoped that they would go further and indict us, in order that we might to the world our honesty and disinterestedness in this measure, which could not be better done than in an investigation by the grand inquest.

It now remains with the public whether the "Home and School" shall be built. Whether the poor, fatherless children of the south, whose parents' blood was shed in defence of Southern homes, shall be deprived of the blessings which this enterprize seeks to obtain for them. Shall we appeal in vain? No, it shall not be said that the southern people were so ungenerous as to condemn those who are seeking to benefit the children of the soldiers who died for them, upon the evidence of men who, when they saw their own mercenary aims frustrated, sought to cover their guilt by bringing charges on us. Charges which, in the only trial that was allowed us, were proved to be as false as perjury could make them.

L. T. PALMER & CO.

Mrs. J. L. HAMMOND, President, Mrs. E. A. J. MEARES, Treasurer, Mrs. McCUBBIN and Mrs. SCHIERS, Trustees of the Southern Orphan Association, have also published a card. The following are extracts from it:

"We invite an examination of our books and the funds now accumulating in bank subject to the order of the Association, for the purpose of erecting the home and school for the orphans of the "Confederate dead" in the city of Richmond, Virginia. Nothing that we can say will testify more accurately the correctness of our plans than an investigation of our books and funds, and it was because we, as custodians of these treasures, would not surrender them to dishonest men, that we are now subject to their persecutions and slander.

We have seen the horrors and devastation of the late war, and know the immense amount of suffering occasioned by it. Homes were rendered cheerless by the loss of its head, who fell fighting for the homes of the South, and it was our sympathy for the poor and friendless orphans of the South that caused us to enter into the resolution of securing for them a home and providing an education, as may render them hereafter good and useful citizens of a free and happy land.

We confess, however, that if we could have looked through the future and seen the trials and persecutions to which we are subjected, we would have never attempted to begin so thankless a work. But now, having embarked in it, our reputation is at stake, and we must build the Home and School; therefore we call upon all good people to assist us toward the completion of our work by discrediting the assertions made by our enemies. And we ask—nay, we demand—that those papers whose opinions were founded upon the acts of our employees, should give to the public our statements, and modify their assertions so as to be in strict accordance with the facts.

Not long since, Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co. published a card which, as we approved it then, we will officially endorse it now, that the information contained therein may go forth to the public with every guarantee for its truthfulness.

In consequence of the delay occasioned by the conduct of the persons above alluded to, we have been compelled to inform our managers to postpone the Concert until the 17th. day of June, 1867, that we may be able to begin the building as soon as our Concert business shall end."

THE MEMORIAL ANNIVERSARY.

The occasion of decking the graves of the Confederate dead, at the Memorial Cemetery, near this City, on Friday afternoon, was, as we hastily observed in our issue of the following morning, one of the most beautiful, attractive and imposing we have ever witnessed. As previously stated, nearly all of the stores were closed, in honor of the annual commemoration. About the appointed hour, hundreds of persons wended their way to the Cemetery—many in vehicles, but most on foot,—fair women, little children and even many of our most prominent and venerable citizens,—so that, by 5 o'clock, at which time the ceremonies commenced, there was probably assembled a concourse of between five and six hundred deeply moved and interested spectators.

Gen. W. R. Cox, who acted as Marshal, having announced the order of exercises, an exceedingly appropriate invocation of Divine grace was made by the Rev. Bennett Smedes, formerly Chaplain of the 5th. N. C. Troops, after which the choir of gentlemen, which had been improvised for the occasion, sung in fine style, and with grand and solemn effect, the beautiful hymn "Thou art gone to the grave," to the air of "Coronach."

Sexton Gales, Esq., who had been previously invited to pronounce a brief oration, addressed the ladies as follows,—a copy of the address having been furnished, for this publication, at the request of the Association:

LADIES:—Twelve months ago, this day, animated by the same pious and patriotic feeling that has brought you together this evening, you separated from yonder Capitol, in detached and mournful groups, to seek out, and to crown with floral honors, wherever found, the dispersed and isolated spots where then reposed the remains of our cherished and martyred heroes. Returning from the holy mission,—the pilgrimage of love,—with hearts saddened at the thought, that those who, for you and for all that you held dear, had stood shoulder to shoulder on the frightful front of battle and of blood, should sleep in unmarked and widely-scattered graves, you conceived the touching design of collecting all that was mortal of them in one consecrated spot, which it should be your loving care to beautify and to adorn. It was a conception worthy the heart of woman—a purpose meet for the descendants of her, who was last at the cross and earliest at the grave of our crucified Redeemer.—Looking around you, this bright and balmy afternoon, from this lofty eminence, upon the scenes of sad but lovely charm by which we are surrounded, you may well feel a grateful pride, a holy satisfaction, in the consummation of your labors and your hopes. Oh!

> "If chanted praise,
> With all the world to listen,—
> If pride that swells a people's soul,—
> If foeman's tears that glisten,—
> If pilgrim's shining love—if grief,
> Which nought may soothe or sever—
> If these can consecrate—THIS SPOT
> Is SACRED GROUND FOREVER!"

The day which you have selected, ladies, for your votive anniversary, is appropriate and suggestive. It can never be commemorated, in the recurring years, without recalling the memory of the sainted leader—the illustrious Stonewall of our faith—who, on just such a beautiful evening as this, four years ago this day, breathed out that noble life, which was wreathed all over with fame, and which had been one fervent, earnest aspiration for God and country!

In all ages, and in all lands, the commemoration of the virtues and the valor of the brave, and a reverential regard for patriot ashes, have not only marked the refinement of civilization, but have been a practice and a sentiment even with the dwellers beneath barbaric skies. How high the duty, how priceless the privilege, how lovely and becoming the custom, when the dead, the noble dead, are our kindred and our friends, the flower of our manhood and the very mirror of our chivalry,—when the cause for which they yielded up their precious lives was one which, whether right or wrong, was inexpressibly dear to our hearts,—and when, in defence of that cause, they did deeds of valor and of high emprise that have challenged the admiration of the world, and will awake the applauding echoes of history! The cause is gone;—the flag which symbolized it, is folded up and laid aside forever. We bow beneath the decree of that Providence which, however inscrutably to finite vision, doeth all things well. But—in our deep, deep trouble and sore extremity, we feel a more earnest affection for surviving kindred, a heartier love for the friends that are left,—and oh! we hug, with an intenser fondness, to our bosoms, the memories of those who died in our behalf. We may not build for them lofty monuments of marble or of bronze—for we are poor; we may not celebrate their prowess with pomp, with procession and with pageantry,—for we are vanquished; we may not make public demonstration of our sorrow or our gratitude,—for that, perhaps, under the circumstances, would be unbecoming;—but, epitaphed in our hearts will live their memories, and our genial sunny clime shall contribute its most lavish and luxuriant tavors to adorn, to decorate and to hallow the places where they rest. If aught inanimate could speak, those very flowrets of our beauteous Southern May would exult in the privilege of shedding their incense above the mounds where sleep the brave youth of their native soil. Aye—they do speak. Those evergreens are expressive of the perpetuity, those roses eloquent of the fragrance, of our love for the gallant, early lost!

Ladies, I will no longer detain you from your holy task. Go, scatter those flowers, which so aptly prefigure the brightness of the resurrection morn!

> "Beautiful hearts of matron and maid,
> Faithful were ye when Apostles betrayed!
> Here are your loved and cherished ones laid:
> Peace to their ashes! The flowers ye strew
> Are monuments worthy the faithful and true.
> Bring Spring flowers! Perfume the sod,
> With annual incense to glory and God!"

On the conclusion of the address, the following Ode, written by L. P. Olds, Esq., for the occasion, was admirably sung by the choir:

OUR MEMORIAL GRAVES.

Sleep noble Dead! lost to the eye,
Yet to the heart as ever dear;
Tho' hearing not the mourner's sigh—
Because the mourner's grateful tear!

Thy work is done! tho' sad the tale
That marks thy path of glory run;
Yet ever shall thy fame prevail,
As much as if by victory won!

'Tis victory thus in death to sleep,
When battling for the rights of man;
Long shall the nation surely keep
In mind the work for them began!

Sleep, noble dead! the love thy rest;
So lonely tendered by our hand,
We lay these tokens on thy breast,
At glory's and at love's command!

The ladies then proceeded in every direction, through the picturesque grounds of the Cemetery, to place their boquets, garlands and varied floral devices, in every conceivable style of tasteful arrangement, upon the graves. Those silent mounds were all heaped with the rarest flowers, while from the head-boards hung wreaths woven by delicate fingers. It was indeed a spectacle of rare and expressive charm, which lingers yet on the mind like the remembrance of a beautiful dream.

After leaving the Cemetery, the ladies, in detached groups, repaired to the City grave yard, where they paid similar honors to the remains of Gens. Anderson, Branch, Pettigrew, and the other numerous distinguished and gallant dead who rest within its sacred precincts.

We trust that the touching and beautiful custom, which has been inaugurated of meeting around the sepulchres of our departed heroes once in each year with floral offerings, may be continued, and that the memories of these brave men, their sacrifices and sufferings, their courage and their fortitude, may be kept ever green to the latest generation.

Peace to their hallowed memories!

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mitchell, Allen & Co., as usual, make an attractive exhibit.

Jenkins & Perry make several interesting announcements to house keepers.

Hufham & Hughes offer for sale a valuable Press and lot of printing material.

The President of the University gives notice that the 140th. session of that venerable institution will commence on the 19th. day of July next.

Brenizer, Kellogg & Co. offer for sale that valuable property in Greensboro, known as the "Metropolitan Hotel." This affords a fine opportunity for profitable investment. There are few towns so eligibly situated as Greensboro' for a flourishing Hotel.

MUNICIPAL.—We were furnished, on Saturday, after our paper had gone to press, with the proceedings of the Board, had at a meeting on Thursday night last. We extract the items of greatest interest:

The City taxes for the present year have been laid as follows: On every $100 value of real estate, 80 cents; on the poll $2; each dog $2.25; on each slut $5.25; on all goods purchased for re-sale a tax of 20 cents on every $100; on buggies $2; on carriages $3; on one horse drays $10; on two horse drays $20; on omnibuses $10; on retailers of spirituous liquors $100; on billiard tables $30; on eating-saloons $35; on ten-pin alleys $15; on hucksters $10.

James Litchford, Esq., was appointed City Tax Collector, required to give bond in the sum of $40,000, and allowed 2½ per cent. commissions for collections.

Owners of dogs are required to procure of the Chief of Police, on or before June 15, a collar, which is to be furnished gratuitously; the tax on the dog is to be paid at the same time; and all dogs found running at large, without the aforesaid collar, are to be killed. Alas! poor Tray.

ANOTHER MATCH GAME.—We learn that the "Star" Club, of this City, will play a match game with the "University" Club, at Chapel Hill, on Saturday next, for the champion ball of the State. Look to your laurels, young gentlemen of "the Hill."

GO TO SIMPSON'S, if you want a cool, refreshing, sparkling glass of Soda Water.

RALEIGH POST OFFICE.—Hereafter the mails will close as follows:

Northern, daily, (Sundays excepted)	9 a. m.
Eastern, " " "	9 a. m.
Western, " " "	3.15 p. m.

The mails arrive as follows:

Northern, daily, (Sundays excepted)	4 p. m.
Eastern, " " "	4 p. m.
Western, " " "	9.30 a. m.

No mails sent or received on Sundays.—The office is always open, during the week, from 7.30 A. M., to 7 P. M., except when the mails are being opened.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS.—We are requested by the Superintendent of the Capitol to give notice, that a fine of $5 is imposed for trespassing upon the grass in Capitol Square, and that, henceforward, he will be compelled to enforce it, without distinction, upon offenders, to all cases.

The stories about the ill treatment of soldiers and prisoners by the officers at Dry Tortugas, which have been current in the public press for some time past, are pronounced untrue.

An exchange thinks the pews of some of the churches ought to rest on pivots, so that the occupants could see who comes in without stretching their necks.

MR. DAVIS LEAVES FORTRESS MONROE.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 11.

A large crowd collected at the steamboat landing at an early hour. Mr. Davis left Fortress Monroe, after two years imprisonment. The leave taking was touching and impressive. Mr. Davis walked. On one side were General Burton and Dr. Cooper. On the other, was Hon. Robt. Ould and the brother of Mr. Davis, from Vicksburg, who accompanied Mrs. Davis and sister, followed by several friends. The countenance of Mr. Davis is cheerful. He received many friends with great cordiality on the boat. He was dressed in a plain dark suit, wore a felt hat and walked with a cane. His face is pale and very thin and feeble; and his hair is quite grey.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT—ARRIVAL OF HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS IN RICHMOND,—ANOTHER RIOT IN RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 11.

The steamer John Sylvester, with Mr. Davis on board, arrived this afternoon, at 5½ o'clock.—Long before her arrival the military arrangements had been made by Gen. Schofield. A detachment of infantry was present and sentinels were posted at regular intervals inclosing about two hundred yards square of the wharf. Outside of this line a large crowd of negroes and a few whites gathered. The brows of the surrounding hills were pretty thickly covered with spectators. Maj. Vance, of Gen. Schofield's staff, who was in command, had a detachment of about fifty mounted men as a guard for the carriages.

As the steamer hove in sight, the most intense anxiety was exhibited by the crowd, but there was no demonstration—no cheering or hissing. When the steamer was made fast Hon. Jas. Lyons went on board, and after a feeling meeting with Mr. Davis, brought Mrs. Davis ashore and conducted her to a carriage. In a few minutes Mr. Davis came over the gang plank accompanied by Gen. Burton and Dr. Cooper. He looked very much changed from what the citizens of Richmond remembered him. He is looking much older, and rather haggard and feeble. A full grey beard contributed much to the change. He wore a heavy black coat, and came ashore with a very firm step. The party immediately entered the carriages which were surrounded by the mounted guard, and drove rapidly by a side street up towards the Spotswood Hotel, thus disappointing the large crowd which had collected on Main street near the wharf to see Mr. Davis. On the trip up he was quite cheerful, and as he had no guard walked freely about the boat, conversing with the passengers who were all anxious to speak to him. He said little about his imprisonment, but spoke in terms of the warmest affection of Ex-President Pierce who visited him on Thursday last. He said there was no man for whom he entertained higher regard. At Brandon, on the way, a number of ladies had gathered to speak to him, who shed tears on seeing him.—They nearly all had been acquaintances of his family during the war.

There is a large and curious but orderly crowd around the Spotswood hotel, waiting to get a glimpse of the prisoner. He will remain in Gen. Burton's charge until produced in Court, on Monday. The citizens generally, in deference to the authorities, stayed away from the docks. Though many of them were stationed in the doors and windows along Main street, to see him as he passed up, after the procession entered that street.

He occupies the same suite of rooms at the Spotswood that he did in 1861. It is the opinion of one of Mr. Davis' counsel that if bail is refused him the Executive will intervene to prevent his further confinement until his trial comes off.

RICHMOND, May 12.

Mr. Davis remained at the Spotswood Hotel all day, and was called on by a large number of citizens. There is no guard over his movements.—Several bouquets were sent him.

The following is generally understood to be the programme: The prisoner will be produced by General Burton and the Judge will discharge him. He will be immediately arrested on a bench warrant to answer the indictment found against him by the Grand Jury of Norfolk. Mr. O'Connor, his counsel, has stated to friends that he will insist on an immediate trial. Another of his counsel states that if a time is not granted, a motion for bail will be insisted on. The general opinion is that no trial will take place now, and not perhaps until June. Horace Greely and Augustus Schell, of New York, and A. Welch and Gen. Jackman, of Philadelphia, are here for the purpose of going bail for Mr. Davis.

Charles O'Connor, of New York, and W. B. Reed, of Philadelphia, counsel for Mr. Davis, are here. Wm. M. Evarts, of N. Y., who assists the prosecution, and Mr. Chandler, prosecuting Attorney arrive this afternoon from Washington.

It is generally believed that Mr. Davis will be held in custody until his trial.

Among about one hundred prominent citizens who called on Mr. Davis, on Saturday evening, was the Pastor of St. Pauls Church, where he first received the news of the breaking of Lee's lines.

The negroes to day attempted to rescue a drunken negro from the police. Bricks, clubs and pistols were used. Four policemen were badly beaten—one of them severely injured. A company of soldiers guarding the Libby Prison were called on, and captured eighteen of the rioters.

While this was going on, another negro difficulty occurred on first street. The last mob was dispersed upon the persuasion of a colored Jurysman.

To-day mounted soldiers patrolled the streets, to keep order. And squads of police were placed at all the Churches, in view of the throats of the negroes to force their way in among the white people.

A large procession of negro societies attended a funeral to-day, accompanied by an unarmed company of colored militia, the officers of which carried swords. There was no disturbance.

Last night, Jedekiah K. Haywood, of Massachusetts, was arrested for using language, at the negro meeting on Friday night, calculated to create a riot. His language was as follows:—"After Judge Underwood leaves, you can hold high carnival, or do what you please. I need not advise you what to do, for great bodies do as they have a mind to." He was arrested on a warrant from the Mayor, and was bailed in $1,000 to appear to-morrow.

The citizens have been apprehensive of a riot all day.

In view of the recent riot the 11th U. S. Infantry is about to encamp permanently at the City Spring Park, within the city.

ELECTION OF BISHOP.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 12.

Rev. John Beckwith, of New Orleans, is elected Episcopal Bishop of Georgia.

As the Sexton of the first Baptist Church was lighting up for the evening service, the entire ceiling fell with a loud crash, breaking the pews and furniture. Fortunately the congregation had not assembled. No person injured.

MEXICAN NEWS—GOV. THROCKMORTON ON REGISTRATION.

NEW ORLEANS, May 12.

San Louis Potosi advices of the 27th ult., say that, on the 23rd, Maximilian, at Queretaro, placed himself at the head of a column of 6,000 men, leading the attack on the Liberals. The fight lasted all day. The Liberals were surprised at first and driven back. They subsequently rallied and repulsed the Imperialists, who took refuge in the city.

The Liberals held a portion of the city a few hours, and then took up their old position.

Gov. Throckmorton, of Texas, says that he has not recommended any persons for registers and declines to do so. As soon as the books and papers arrive, the work of registration will commence.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, May 12.

Gen. Sickles has issued an order, requiring all persons concerned in the seizure of any kind of real or personal property, sequestrated by the Confederate Government, to report in writing to his Headquarters the amount and kind of property sequestrated, the time and place of sequestration, with the names of the original and present owners.

The Republican State Convention has adjourned to meet in Columbia on the 24th of July. A platform was adopted affirming adhesion to the Republican party of the North.

FOREIGN NEWS.

NEW YORK, May 12.

A cable dispatch to the Herald, dated the 11th., says: "Notwithstanding the satisfactory solution of the Luxemburg question by the treaty arrangement, fears are entertained and generally expressed that war has been merely postponed by the work of the diplomatists."

Warlike preparations are still actively carried on in France, Germany, Russia and Greece.

It is said that before the close of the peace conference, a proposal will likely be addressed, by England, to all the powers inclined to belligerent action, in which Queen Victoria will recommend and urge a general disarmament. Should this proposal be entertained, another Congress will probably assemble in London to secure its formal adoption and uniform execution by all the great powers. But it is thought that even this proposition will not be successful in securing the maintenance of peace.

LONDON, May 12.

The treaty was signed yesterday by the respective Governments. The Prussians will evacuate Luxenburg in a month.

BERLIN, May 12.

The French Cabinet has made satisfactory explanations to Prussia, regarding her recent warlike preparations.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. FERTILIZERS
FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.
We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 225 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which was for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF
Moisture	5.00
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	38.80
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	26.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	18.80
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.00

The animal matter also, 4 3-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.
After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you intend and correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

THE JOLLY OLD PEDAGOGUE.

There was a jolly old pedagogue, long ago,
Tall and slender, and sallow and dry;
His form was bent and his gait was slow,
And his long, thin hair was white as snow,
But a wonderful twinkle shone in his eye:
And he sang every night as he went to bed,
"Let us be happy down here below;
The living should live, though the dead be dead,"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

He taught the scholars the Rule of Three,
Reading, and writing, and history too;
He took the little ones on his knee,
For a kind old heart in his breast had he,
And the wants of the littlest child he knew.
"Learn while you're young," he often said,
"There is much to enjoy down here below;
Life for the living, and rest for the dead!"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

With the stupidest boys he was kind and cool,
Speaking only in the gentlest tones;
The rod was scarcely known in his school—
Whipping to him was a barbarous rule,
And too hard work for his poor old bones;
Besides, it was painful, he sometimes said:
"We should make life pleasant down here below,
The living need charity more than the dead,"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

He lived in the house by the hawthorn lane,
With roses and woodbine over the door;
His rooms were quiet, and neat, and plain,
But a spirit of comfort there held reign,
And made him forget he was old and poor.
"I need so little" he often said;
"And my friends and relatives here below
Won't litigate over me when I am dead,"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

But the pleasantest times he had of all
Were the sociable hours he used to pass,
With the chair tipped back to a neighbor's wall,
Making an unceremonious call,
Over a pipe and friendly glass;
This was the finest pleasure, he said,
Of the many he tasted here below;
"Who has no cronies had better be dead,"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

The jolly old pedagogue's wrinkled face
Melted all over in sunshiny smiles;
He stirred his glass with an old school grace,
Chuckled, and sipped, and prattled apace,
Till the house grew merry from cellar to tiles.
"I'm a pretty old man," he gently said,
"I've lingered a long time here below;
But my heart is fresh, if my youth is fled!"
Said the jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

He smoked his pipe in the balmy air
Every night when the sun went down;
And the soft wind played in his silvery hair,
Leaving its tenderest kisses there
On the jolly old pedagogue's jolly old crown;
And feeling the kisses, he smiled and said:
"'Twas a glorious world down here below;
Why wait for happiness till we are dead?"
Said this jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

He sat at his door one midsummer night,
After the sun had sunk in the west,
And the lingering beams of golden light
Made his kindly old face look warm and bright,
While the odorous night-winds whispered
"Rest!"
Gently, gently, he bowed his head;
There were angels waiting for him, I know;
He was sure of his happiness living or dead,
This jolly old pedagogue, long ago.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

Bury your troubles, but don't linger around the the grave-yard conjuring up their ghosts to haunt you.

There is a feebleness of body which proceeds from strength of mind, and feebleness of mind which comes of strength of body.

The man who writes for a daily newspaper in this age of the world, on both sides of a large old fashioned sheet of paper, greatly aids in filling editorial waste baskets.

Josh Billings on Preaching—"I always advise short sermons, especially on a hot Sunday. If a minister kant strike ile in boring forty minutes, he has either got a poor gimblet or else he is boring in the wrong place."

Morality without religion is only a kind of dead-reckoning—an endeavor to find our place on a cloudy sea by measuring the distance we have run, without an observation to the heavenly bodies.

Somebody recently asked a Parisian editor where he got his intelligence. "From the newspapers," he said. "Where do the newspapers get it?" "From other newspapers." "But who is the first author of it?" "Nobody."

An editor having stated that he never knew a person to be an honorable member of a church, one of his correspondents replies: "Two-thirds of the members of my church are honorable members. They don't come to prayer meetings. They don't attend Sunday school. They are honorable members. They are passengers in the Gospel ship. They bear no burdens, add no strength. We have their names. You must have been a fortunate man, never to have been in a church where there were no honorary members."

A young man from town was seen in a village at evening looking about attentively in the gutter. "What are you looking for?" said the man whose shop was ris-a-ris. "Some pieces of gold." "Oh, I will assist you," and out he came with a lantern. The neighbors all came with lanterns, and were all groping in the gutter at this news. After a time, during which the young man let them search by themselves, the first spokesman said, "Are you sure you lost the gold peices here?" "I said nothing about losing any money; I only wanted to find some—that is the difference." He was careful to make himself scarce.

A lady who went to one of the great mourning warehouses in London, and, on mentioning what she required, was politely requested by one of the shopmen to go further on. "This, madam, is the light affliction department; the heavy bereavement is further on."

In the depths of the sea the waters are still; the heaviest grief is that borne in silence; the deepest love flows through the eye and touch; the purest joy is unspeakable; the most impressive prayer is silent; and the most silent preacher at a funeral is the silent one whose lips are cold.

The Lorain (Ohio) county News, of the 27th, says: "The young ladies of this place walk on their tip-toes, and can't help it, as the watertails on the top of their heads draw up the back hair so tightly that they can't put their heads down squarely without great pain."

"Mike, why don't you fire at those ducks? Don't you see you have got the whole flock before your gun?" "I know I had; but, you see, when I gets a good aim at one, two or three others will swim right 'twixt it and me."

Ben Butler gets no mercy. The last joke about him defends a Lowell Democrat who did not make a proper return of his silver ware on the ground that he didn't want Butler to know how many spoons he had.

There are three things a woman cannot do—to pass a bonnet shop without looking in, or a baby without kissing it, and to admire a piece of lace without inquiring how much it was per yard.

An elderly maiden, who has suffered some disappointments, thus defines the human race: Man—a conglomerate mass of hair, tobacco smoke, confusion, conceit and boots. Woman—The waiter, per force, on the afore said animal.

A man in Maine applied for two gallons of rum for medical purposes. "For what medical purposes?" inquired the agent. "For raising a barn," was the reply.

To make a muss: Pour a quart of molasses into your wife's new bonnet.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as herein after prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when said constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th, of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United states against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the court, House of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, nor held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, nor herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in each State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
